THE UNIVERSITY OF TOLEDO
FOUNDATION

Letter from the President

Friends, donors and alumni,

It is hard to believe another year has passed. Time seems to be moving at a breakneck pace, surely the result of all the activity happening on our University of Toledo campuses.

The past year has been a time of great accomplishment, inside and outside the classroom.

We have increased our enrollment for the third consecutive year, with a nearly six percent increase in our student body this fall. We have introduced The University of Toledo Learning Collaborative, a new learning model designed to meet the individualized needs of our students. We have seen extensive renovations to Savage Arena, which recently welcomed its first visitors. And with your generous support, we have seen our capital campaign goal come to fruition, with more than $106 million in pledges and donations.

Another accomplishment of the past year was the renovation and rebirth of the Memorial Field House. While this project will go a long way to meeting our need for state-of-the-art classrooms and academic workspace, it has become more than just another capital investment.

The Memorial Field House is symbolic of the renewed sense of excitement and enthusiasm one feels when walking across our scenic campuses. In many ways, it links our history with our future. By retaining its original exterior, we were able to preserve the legacy of the facility. Yet, inside its frame, we have created something entirely new that will serve our campus community well as we create a new future for The University of Toledo.

In 2006, we did much the same, by taking the existing framework of two institutions of higher education and forging something entirely new for our students, our community, our state, our friends, our donors and our alumni. Today, life at The University of Toledo feels a lot like the vibrant interior of the Memorial Field House, built upon a history and legacy that serves as the foundation for our future.

Sincerely,

Lloyd A. Jacobs, M.D.
President
The University of Toledo

Letter from UTF President and Board Chair

Dear Friends of The University of Toledo,
Change is seldom a singular event. It has a ripple effect, putting into motion other waves of transformation.

When The University of Toledo Foundation and the former Medical University of Ohio Foundation merged on July 1, 2007, it presented an opportunity to also realign goals, reassess policies and procedures, and restructure the organization. By combining the expertise and the skill sets of its two former boards and its employees, the new UT Foundation realized many accomplishments in its first full year, including:

- Adoption of a new strategic plan
- Savings of approximately $416,500 in the operating budget
- Lowering of the administrative fee assessed to endowed funds, from a rate of 1.6 percent (MUO Foundation) and 1.35 percent (UT Foundation) to 1.25 percent
- Selection of a new investment consultant, and progress made in alternative investment areas
- Selection of a new independent auditor

Amidst all these changes and improvements, the Foundation stayed focused on its ongoing and primary duties as the official gift-receiving organization for the University. Throughout fiscal year 2008, the tremendously successful final year of UT's capital campaign, the Foundation:

- Worked with donors to establish nearly 90 new funds
- Received and acknowledged gifts and pledges from 13,000 donors, totaling a record $22.2 million
- Provided $12.9 million in support of UT students, programs and services

During these difficult economic times, fiscal stewardship is as important as ever. Please be assured that our prudent investment strategy is designed to meet the present and future needs of the University. While we, too, are concerned with the short-term results of the portfolio, our focus remains the long-term growth of our asset pool. The Foundation's investment performance has always placed high among our peer institutions.

As the new UT Foundation looks to the future, more change is inevitable—and acknowledged as a necessary and welcomed step toward our continued success.

We welcome the collaboration of our supporters and friends, whose support remains the key ingredient in that success.

Sincerely,

Michael J. Todak
Chair, UT Foundation Board of Trustees

106 Million Thanks a Million

The Time Is Now Campaign Exceeds Goal

When The University of Toledo entered a capital campaign in 1993, its goal of raising $40 million seemed a formidable task. Some years later, when UT embarked on its newest major fund-raising campaign, many thought even $60 million may be an ambitious goal.

At the campaign's conclusion, which was marked with a victory celebration on Sept. 26 at the newly renovated Memorial Field House, the commitment and support of the University's alumni and friends was made clear: The Time Is Now Campaign exceeded its $100 million goal, raising a total of $106.2 million.

The successful campaign is the largest in the University's history, according to Vern Snyder, UT vice president for Institutional Advancement.

"This outstanding accomplishment is the result of tireless efforts by UT faculty, staff and volunteers, combined with the great generosity of thousands of donors who believe in the University's mission," said Mr. Snyder.

Leadership gifts included:

- $15 million, the largest gift in UT's history, from Marvin and Judy Herb and their sons Jon and Tom, for the Judith Herb College of Education
- The largest gift ever to UT's Intercollegiate Athletics, from Chuck and Jackie Sullivan, to support renovations to Savage Hall and scholarships
- A major gift from George Isaac, to create the Isaac Minimally Invasive Surgery Center
- A transformational gift from Alfred and Adela Mundt for the cardiology department
- An endowment from Joan and Dr. Julius Jacobson II for collaborative research between UT's campuses
- The creation of an endowed chair in finance and the Neff Trading Floor, from John and Lilli Neff
- A bequest from Dr. Edward Shapiro, to establish scholarship programs and the Shapiro Lecture Series

opportunities across all of UT campuses

- A leadership gift to the College of Business, by Savage & Associates, for the Savage & Associates Complex for Business Learning and Engagement
- An unrestricted gift from Samuel Carson

In addition, Mr. Snyder said, 24 gifts of $1 million or more contributed nearly $50 million toward the campaign. And though major gifts obviously helped UT reach its goal, he noted that each and every gift was appreciated and important in this campaign.

Mr. Snyder said contributions were targeted for a wide array of needs and opportunities across all of UT's campuses, including scholarships, endowed chairs, professorships and facilities. Gifts were made in the form of cash, trusts and bequests. "Our donors gave a great deal of consideration to the amount of their contributions, and were equally thoughtful in choosing the purpose and giving vehicle that best suited their circumstances and goals."

The campaign's real success will be made evident for generations.

"The success of this campaign illustrates perfectly the momentum of The University of Toledo," said President Lloyd Jacobs. "Thanks to the generosity of our alumni, donors and friends, the University is well positioned in its role as a transformative force for the world."

Though the campaign goal has been attained, there is more to do, as the needs of the University continue to grow, Mr. Snyder emphasized.

The campaign's real success will be made evident for generations. "The programs, services and facilities supported by this campaign will have a lasting impact on The University of Toledo community," he said. "The Time Is Now may have been our campaign motto, but The Times Look Brighter could be a fitting motto for our future."

Dr. Julius Jacobson Hopes Serendipity and Skill Combine for Success

In many of the world's greatest scientific accomplishments, notes Dr. Julius Jacobson (A/S '47), a surprising element has played a critical role: serendipity.

Dr. Jacobson, considered to be the pioneer of microsurgery, said that accidental discoveries continue to result in major breakthroughs in medicine and technology. Not to downplay the role of education and skill, Dr. Jacobson quotes Louis Pasteur, the famed organic chemist, as saying, "Chance favors only the mind that is prepared."

But in Dr. Jacobson's own mind, and in the shared thinking of the National Institutes of Health, some of the greatest scientific discoveries of the future may be the result of a meeting of minds: through translational, or collaborative, research.

"Translational research brings together basic scientists and clinical scientists," explained Dr. Jacobson, director emeritus of vascular surgery at Mt. Sinai Medical Center in New York City. "I'm a vascular surgeon; that's what I know. But when it comes to basic biochemistry and physics, I know very little."

Through the combined skills and knowledge of basic and clinical scientists, Dr. Jacobson believes the field of medicine will see phenomenal developments. "We're going to solve common issues like cancer and diabetes. These will no longer be a problem in the next generation," he said.

"The problem of the future generation is that the world will have standing room only," he noted wryly.

In support of his conviction in translational research, Dr. Jacobson and his wife Joan have contributed $2 million to create the Joan and Julius H. Jacobson II Center for Clinical and Translational Research at The University of Toledo.

The Jacobsons' gift will support the necessary infrastructure for the Center, which will be located on UT's Health Science Campus, said

Dr. Jeffrey Gold, Health Science Campus provost, executive vice president for health affairs and College of Medicine dean.

“The Jacobson Center will accelerate the enormous progress that the University has already made in clinical research,” said Dr. Gold. “It will integrate the University’s basic and clinical science programs throughout its various colleges, actively encouraging interdisciplinary research and resulting in outstanding projects with potential for significant breakthroughs.”

The Center’s efforts will be led by a newly appointed director, Dr. Debra Gmerek. “I am very excited about the opportunity to create true synergy across basic research and clinical science through this center,” said Dr. Gmerek, “ultimately to bring new treatments to patients.”

Dr. Jacobson said the gift is in gratitude for Toledo’s “wonderful people, wonderful professors and wonderful university.” “I couldn’t have gone to college if it weren’t for The University of Toledo. I owe what I have done in my life to Toledo,” he said.

“The Jacobson Center will accelerate the enormous progress
that the University has already made in clinical research,”
said Dr. Gold.

He hopes the projects and research through the new Jacobson Center will lead the University and its scientists to renowned discoveries and accomplishments. “I want to put Toledo on the map,” he said.

While serendipity and a prepared mind are likely to play a part in those accomplishments, the foresight and financial support of individuals like the Jacobsons are clearly key ingredients.

significant breakthroughs.”

UT to Honor Veterans through Memorial Field House Plaza

The University of Toledo is honoring members of the nation's military services through a new Veterans' Plaza, an outdoor monument to be located outside one of the oldest and most historic buildings on campus, the newly renovated Memorial Field House.

"In a workaday world that surrounds each of us, there is little time and few places to remember those who have served our country and paid for the freedoms we all enjoy," said Vern Snyder, UT vice president for Institutional Advancement. "The Veterans' Plaza will stand as just such a place for our veterans, our community, and our students."

The UT Board of Trustees recently approved the estimated $250,000 project, and the University is currently seeking support for the project from veterans' organizations and individuals who wish to remember a loved one, friend or comrade. Naming opportunities include $100 donations for nameplates, $1,000 for plaques, and $5,000 for memorial stones or benches.

"UT graduates and veterans all over the region are becoming aware of this plaza, and are responding with their donations honoring loved ones," said

Gordon Haggett, who is directing the project. "To have the support of the community, veterans' groups, and the university's administrative officers, shows the incredible importance of having this plaza on our beautiful campus."

Mr. Haggett said the plaza, which may also be used by veterans' groups for future ceremonies, will be marked by the American flag, State of Ohio flag, and POW/MIA flag.

The timely and honorable memorial will blend the university, students, alumni, and the community in support of the nation's veterans, said Mr. Haggett.

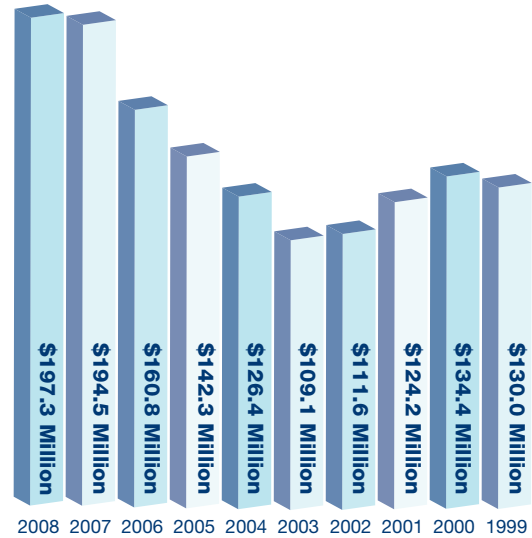

"What a great way for our students and those visiting our campus to recognize our veterans' achievements and sacrifices," he noted, "to keep us a free country and to enjoy the freedoms we have as they walk through the plaza."

For more information about the Veterans' Plaza, or to make a gift, contact Gordon Haggett at gordon.haggett@utoledo.edu or Vern Snyder at 419.530.8425.

Ways to Give

Your support of The University of Toledo remains more important than ever as we work together to make UT a university of distinction.

UNRESTRICTED GIFTS

Unrestricted gifts, given with no specified purpose, are especially encouraged. These allow the University flexibility to seize special opportunities and meet emergency needs. Income from unrestricted endowments is used for priority needs determined by the University.

DESIGNATED GIFTS

Donors may designate gifts for a particular academic division of the University. Gifts restricted for a specific use, such as scholarships, may also be designated for a particular college, department or program. We can work with you to meet your goals.

OUTRIGHT GIFTS AND PLEDGES

Gifts of Cash: Cash is the simplest, most direct and most popular type of charitable gift. Checks should be made payable to:

The University of Toledo Foundation
P. O. Box 586
Toledo, OH 43697-0586

Pledges: Donors may make pledge commitments payable over several years.

Securities: Gifts of stocks, mutual funds and bonds may be made to the UT Foundation. Call the Foundation at 419.530.7730 to learn how securities can be transferred. When gifting appreciated securities, you avoid capital gains tax on the appreciated portion.

IRA Charitable Rollover: Individuals age 70 ½ and older may direct distributions from an IRA to the UT Foundation through 2009. The transfer counts toward your required minimum distribution and does not generate taxable income or a tax deduction. You can designate to fulfill a pledge or to a specific purpose.

Closely Held Stock in Business or Partnership or LLC

Interests: Gifting this appreciated property can reduce capital gains taxes while generating charitable income tax deductions. Proceeds from the sale or redemption of stock can benefit a UT fund or program of your choice.

Real Estate: Gifts of real estate include personal residence, farm and commercial property. Such gifts will be counted at fair market value as determined by a qualified appraisal, subject to IRS rules and regulations, and you can avoid capital gains on the sale.

Matching Gifts: Corporate matches count toward a donor's total giving and may significantly increase the gift's value.

PLANNED GIFTS

Planned gifts allow donors to make a significant gift to benefit UT in the future, typically at the donor's or beneficiary's death. The Foundation welcomes the opportunity to work with donors and their legal and financial advisers to arrange planned gifts.

Planned gifts may offer donors tax advantages and financial benefits, such as providing current income tax deductions, removing assets from your estate and producing income. Donors should consult with their own advisers as to specific tax consequences.

Bequests: Bequest provisions in a donor's will may provide for a specific amount, percentage or residue of the estate.

Charitable Remainder Trusts: This trust provides income to the donor or other beneficiaries for life or a term of years, leaving the remainder to the UT Foundation.

Charitable Gift Annuities: A donor transfers a gift of cash or marketable securities to the Foundation. In exchange, the Foundation contractually guarantees to pay a fixed income to the donor and/or another beneficiary for life.

Life Insurance Policies: Donor may either donate a paid-up policy or designate the UT Foundation as policy owner and beneficiary, while continuing to make an annual gift of the premium amount to the Foundation.

IRA and Other Retirement Plans: By naming the Foundation as the beneficiary, estate and income taxes are completely avoided on these assets. The donor can designate other, more tax-efficient, assets for children.

We can help you connect your goals with effective giving options. For more information:
